

GCSE - Learner Profile Comments – English Literature

Space for context (optional)

Projected Grade	EOY GCSE Comments
A*	An A* learner in English Literature is able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Respond critically to texts, showing insight and confident understanding of characters, themes, relationships and sub-text, using apt evidence to support points.● Confidently analyse and evaluate how a writer's use of language, structure and form contribute to meaning.● Make insightful and detailed connections and comparisons between texts.● Show perceptive understanding of how social, cultural and historical contexts shape texts and add meaning.
A	An A grade learner in English Literature is able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Respond critically to texts, showing insight and confident understanding of characters, themes, relationships and sub-text, using apt evidence to support points.● Confidently analyse and evaluate how a writer's use of language, structure and form contribute to meaning.● Make insightful connections and comparisons between texts.● Show perceptive understanding of how social, cultural and historical contexts shape texts and add meaning.
B	A B grade learner in English Literature is able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Demonstrate secure understanding of texts, including characters, themes and relationships.● Thoughtfully analyse effects of language, structure and form, referring to apt textual detail to support their points.● Explore interesting and important connections and comparisons between texts.● Show understanding of the social, cultural and historical contexts of texts.
C	A C grade learner in English Literature is able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Demonstrate understanding of texts, including characters, themes and relationships.● Respond analytically to some effects of language, structure and form, referring to apt textual detail to support their views and reactions.● Explore some meaningful connections and comparisons between texts.● Show understanding of some of the social, cultural and historical contexts of texts.
D	A D grade learner in English Literature is able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Show some understanding of the main features of texts including characters and themes.● Make some personal response to the effects of language, structure and form in texts, and sometimes use textual details to evidence their points.● Make basic connections and comparisons between texts.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Show some understanding of social, cultural and historical contexts.
E	An E grade learner in English Literature is able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Show some understanding of the main features of texts and important characters.• Make some limited personal response to the effects of language, structure and form in texts.• Make obvious connections and comparisons between texts.• Show a simple awareness of social, cultural and historical contexts.
F	An F grade learner in English Literature is able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Show a limited understanding of the main features of texts.• Briefly select from the text and make generalised comments on language, structure and form.• Make limited connections and comparisons between texts.• Show a limited awareness of social, cultural and historical contexts although this may not always be relevant.
G	A G grade learner in English Literature is able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Show a very limited understanding of the main features of texts.• Briefly select from the text and may make generalised comments on language, structure and form.• Make brief and limited connections and comparisons between texts.• Show a limited awareness of social, cultural and historical contexts although this may not always be relevant.